Ashes and Dust

Ashes and Dust

It's lonely here on this far world,

The road back home is gone.

I'm stranded here, not with you,

Not where I belong.

â€|

Once we were invincible,

Now we wait to join the dead.

I stand here, living on borrowed time,

Filled with relief and dread.

â€|

I imagine what will happen,

Of the fire that's to come.

Flame to ash and ash to dust,

Eclipsing planets' suns.

â€|

The sky here's grey, it's overcast,

I think that it might rain.

In the end all will be lost,

But it's better than Flood gains.

â€|

And in the end I've not lost conviction,

I did what I knew I must.

Now I wait to join the ashes,

To be rendered unto dust.

End
